A WONDERFUL FRUIT FARM IN KEMPTON

Subarashii Kudamono ("Wonderful Fruit" in Japanese) experienced its humble beginnings in the 1970s, when the company's founder, Joel S. Spira, returned to the U.S. from Japan full of inspiration and with a variety of fruit seeds. The company's pears and pear products (including dried Asian pears, Asian pear spread, aged Asian pear vinegar and more) are sold and distributed entirely online to ensure maximum freshness; each order is packaged and shipped directly from their farm in Kempton, Berks County. Says Marketing Director Holly Harter of the Asian pears, "[they are] healthy, delicious memorable," and making amazing gifts for all occasions; though she jokes that once you get a taste of them, "you are not going to want to share them with anyone."
