

Congratulations!

You're an
Email Marketing All Star!

You're an All Star! Share the news, Subarashii Kudamono

Kudos to Subarashii Kudamono! In 2009, you did email marketing the way it's supposed to be done.

You stayed in touch with your customers or members with regular email communications. You made sure your list was up to date — and that everyone on it gave you permission to send them emails. Finally, you delivered engaging information that your audience was eager to receive, open, and read.

That's why we named you a Constant Contact Email Marketing All Star for 2009 and we want to congratulate you for being part of this special group.

Thank you for being a Constant Contact customer — and for making email marketing a part of your organization's success....and that you meet the standards of a responsible, professional, and successful email marketer.
