

Coming soon: Tastings of Asian 'Pear-tinis'

More than 150 guests who turned out for their first tastes of Subarashii Kudamono's Asian Pear dessert wine at Hotel Bethlehem got an unexpected surprise.

They were treated to Asian "Pear-tinis" as well as the wine.

Asian pears for the drinks were grown in the Lehigh Valley.

Subarashii spokesman Holly Harter says, "We'll have more tasting events, as soon as all three of our Asian pear products are available as a trio in Pennsylvania."

When will that be? Early June, perhaps. We'll let you know. If you want to have a few pear martinis in the meantime, details on ordering it through Pennsylvania's SLO ordering system are provided at www.winesofsub-
